DETAILED ACTION

Receipt is acknowledged of the response filed on 17 June 2008, which has been entered in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 1, 5-12, 16-26, 28-49, 51-66, 68-83, and 85 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The terms "language" in claims are unclear. It is vague and indefinite to the examiner what the applicant is intending to describe of that language in respect to the receipt, that is, what are the suitable languages and not suitable language that is generated on the receipts, what are the languages that is reflecting or not reflecting corporate nature of the financial transactions?

The terms "a corporate type transaction" in claims are unclear. It is vague and indefinite to the examiner what the applicant is intending to describe of that transaction in respect to the financial transaction, that is, how do one of ordinary artisan differentiate the corporate type of transaction and non-corporate type of transaction? t

Clarification and correction is required.

Additional Remarks

3. The lack of an art rejection with this Office action is not an indication of allowable subject matter (i.e., even though the claims are rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection under 35 U.S.C. 112 as discussed above). The disclosure/claimed language is such that it is impractical to conduct a reasonable search of the prior art by the Examiner.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Minowa (US 2005/0033695) teaches a method of generating a receipt for a check received at a merchant location comprising method of determining whether the check is business check (C1) or a personal check (C2) using an auxiliary on-us field.
